Second Annual Fundraising Event for Hill Country Film Society Explores Convergence of Food and Film

AUSTIN, Texas (Feb. 2, 2017) – The Hill Country Film Society, a non-profit organization committed to creating experiences that educate, inspire and engage, is partnering with Hoffman Haus, Otto's German Bistro and Pedernales Cellars for its second annual Film Affäre, a cinematic and culinary journey, to be held Friday, March 3, 2017, at 6:00 p.m. in the Great Hall at Hoffman Haus, 608 East Creek Street, Fredericksburg, Texas.

Tom Provost, award-winning filmmaker, Pepperdine University film professor and self-proclaimed food nerd will lead an intimate conversation on the ever-present relationship between food and film. Provost will guide guests through a process of viewing film through the lens of food and savoring food through the lens of film. Film clips and conversation will be paired with a five-course meal created by Executive Chef Judd Wood of Otto's German Bistro and a variety of Texas Hill Country wines from Pedernales Cellars.

"We're excited to be partnering again this year with some of the most respected brands in the Texas Hill Country in Hoffman Haus, Otto's and Pedernales Cellars," said Wade Lee, director, for Hill Country Film Society. "Tom Provost takes a highly unique approach in showing guests the significance of food on film and film on food, transforming the way we experience both. Film Affäre brings together the very best in food, wine and film, all in support of the film society that helps foster, encourage and promote independent film production."

Provost's film THE PRESENCE (d. Tom Provost, U.S., 2011) screened at the inaugural Hill Country Film Festival in 2010 and later went on to be picked up by film production and distribution studio Lionsgate Films and aired on HBO. Provost is author of the highly-respected blog, On Food and Film, and creator and instructor of the popular filmmaking series Cinema Language.
